Annual Management Report of Fund Performance

March 31, 2026

Caution Regarding Forward-looking Statements

Certain portions of this report, including, but not limited to, "Results of Operations" and "Recent Developments", may contain forward-looking statements about the Fund, including its strategy, risks, expected performance and condition. Forward-looking statements include statements that are predictive in nature, that depend upon or refer to future events or conditions, or that include words such as "expects", "anticipates", "intends", "plans", "believes", "estimates" and similar forward-looking expressions or negative versions thereof.

In addition, any statement that may be made concerning future performance, strategies or prospects, and possible future Fund action, is also a forward-looking statement. Forward-looking statements are based on current expectations and projections about future events and are inherently subject to, among other things, risks, uncertainties and assumptions about the Fund and economic factors. Accordingly, assumptions concerning future economic and other factors may prove to be incorrect at a future date.

Forward-looking statements are not guarantees of future performance, and actual events and results could differ materially from those expressed or implied in any forward-looking statements made by the Fund. Any number of important factors could contribute to these digressions, including, but not limited to, general economic, political and market factors in North America and internationally, interest and foreign exchange rates, global equity and capital markets, business competition, technological change, changes in government regulations, unexpected judicial or regulatory proceedings, and catastrophic events.

It should be stressed that the above-mentioned list of important factors is not exhaustive. You are encouraged to consider these and other factors carefully before making any investment decisions and you are urged to avoid placing undue reliance on forward-looking statements. Further, you should be aware of the fact that the Fund has no specific intention of updating any forward-looking statements whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise, prior to the release of the next Management Report of Fund Performance.

Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Investment Objective and Strategies

Investment Objective: Fidelity Japan Fund (Fund) aims to achieve long-term capital growth by investing primarily in equity securities of Japanese companies.

Strategies: When buying and selling securities for the Fund, the portfolio manager examines each company's potential success by evaluating its current financial position and industry position, as well as economic and market conditions. The portfolio manager considers factors like growth potential, earnings estimates and quality of management. The Fund may invest in small, medium, and large-sized companies.

Risk

The risks associated with investing in this Fund remain as discussed in the prospectus. Any changes to the Fund over the period have not affected the overall level of risk of the Fund.

The Fund is suitable for long-term investors who want to gain exposure to Japanese companies, and can handle the volatility of returns generally associated with equity investments. The Fund is not an appropriate investment for investors with a short-term investment horizon. To invest in the Fund, investors should be willing to accept a medium level of risk. The suitability of the investment has not changed from what has been disclosed in the prospectus.

Results of Operations

Fidelity Japan Fund (Fund), Series B, returned 27.1%, after fees and expenses, for the twelve-month period ended March 31, 2026. The net returns of the other series of the Fund are similar to those of Series B, except for differences attributable to expense structures. During the review period, global equities, as represented by the MSCI World Index, returned 15.3% (in Canadian dollar terms).

Market overview:

Global equities, as broadly measured by the MSCI World Index, returned 15.3% in Canadian dollar terms and 18.9% in U.S. dollar terms, for the one-year period ended March 31, 2026.

Global equities rose over the period under review. Performance reflected resilient growth in the United States, improving conditions in parts of Europe and stabilisation in several major emerging markets. Technology and other companies linked to long term global investment trends, such as artificial intelligence (AI), performed well for much of the period. This was supported by year over year corporate earnings growth in the fourth quarter of 2025. However, results varied across sectors, and mega capitalisation technology companies faced increased scrutiny after a step-up in 2026 capital expenditure guidance and scrutiny around the sustainability of returns. Both developed and emerging markets contributed to overall returns, with performance shaped by differences in economic momentum, policy conditions and exposure to global trade and commodities. Inflation moderated across many developed economies, allowing some central banks to begin or signal gradual policy easing, while labour market conditions softened modestly without exhibiting broad based weakness. In March 2026, market conditions weakened as geopolitical tensions escalated following the outbreak of conflict in the Middle East, leading to higher volatility and a more risk off market environment. Global economic growth slowed but remained positive overall, with a more cautious market backdrop toward the end of the review period.

Factors affecting performance:
The Fund outperformed its broad-based index, the MSCI World Index, for the period under review. The Fund's higher-than-benchmark exposure to Japan, particularly investments in the consumer discretionary and information technology sectors contributed to relative returns.
The Fund's specific benchmark, the Tokyo Stock Price Index (TOPIX), returned 22.7% for the period under review. The Fund outperformed its specific benchmark for the period under review. The Fund's investments in the consumer discretionary and information technology sectors contributed to relative returns. In the consumer discretionary sector, an investment in Japan-based electric wire and optical fibre cables manufacturer Sumitomo Electric Industries and lack of exposure to a Japan-based automotive manufacturer contributed to relative returns. In the information technology sector, investments in Japan-based semiconductor companies Advantest and Kioxia Holdings contributed to relative returns. In other sectors, an investment in Japan-based diversified industrial conglomerate Mitsubishi Heavy Industries contributed to relative returns.
In contrast, the Fund's investments in, and lower-than-benchmark exposure to, the industrials sector detracted from relative returns. In this sector, lack of exposure to a Japan-based integrated business enterprise and an investment in Japan-based human resources technology company Visional detracted from relative returns. Investments in the communication services sector also detracted from relative returns. In this sector, an investment in Japan-based video game company Nintendo and lack of exposure to a Japan-based investment holding company detracted from relative returns. In other sectors, investments in Japan-based enterprise software company Rakus, Japan-based retail company Pan Pacific International Holdings, and Japan-based beverage company Asahi Group Holdings detracted from relative returns.
At the end of the review period, the Fund had no exposure to Visional, Nintendo, Rakus, or Asahi Group Holdings.
Portfolio changes:
During the review period, the Fund's exposure to the consumer staples and health care sectors was increased. In the consumer staples sector, the portfolio manager initiated a position in a Japan-based food products company Kewpie. In the health care sector, a position was initiated in a Japan-based pharmaceutical company Chugai Pharmaceutical. The portfolio manager believes these companies have attractive investment growth potential.
In contrast, the portfolio manager exited positions in the communication services sector and reduced exposure to the consumer discretionary sector to pursue investment opportunities the portfolio manager believed offered greater potential elsewhere. In the communication services sector, the portfolio manager exited a position in Nintendo. In the consumer discretionary sector, a position was exited in Japan-based consumer electronics and entertainment company Sony Group.

At the end of the review period, the Fund had its largest absolute exposure to the consumer discretionary sector, followed by the financials sector. The Fund diverged most from its benchmark's sector weightings by having more exposure to the consumer discretionary sector and less exposure to the industrials sector.

Recent Developments

Portfolio Manager Eileen Dibb remains optimistic about Japanese equities as, in the portfolio manager's view, the economy has transitioned toward a mildly inflationary environment following decades of subdued growth and deflation. The portfolio manager believes that rising wages are expected to support consumption and contribute to firmer pricing. At the same time, the manager believes that ongoing corporate governance reforms are encouraging companies to place greater emphasis on dividends and share buybacks, helping to unlock equity market value. The manager also highlights Japan's growing relevance within global supply chains, particularly in industrial production and advanced technologies, as an increasingly important theme. Overall, portfolio positioning remains anchored in long-term fundamentals and company-specific earnings, with the manager maintaining discipline amid market volatility and policy uncertainty.

Related Party Transactions

Manager and Portfolio Adviser

The Fund is managed by Fidelity Investments Canada ULC (Fidelity). Fidelity is part of a broader collection of companies collectively known as Fidelity Investments.

Fidelity provides or arranges for the provision of all general management and administrative services required by the Fund in its day–to–day operations, bookkeeping, record–keeping and other administrative services for the Fund.

Fidelity is the portfolio adviser to the Fund and it provides investment advisory services to the Fund. Fidelity has entered into sub-advisory agreements with a number of entities including Fidelity Management & Research Company LLC, to provide investment advice with respect to all or a portion of the investments of the Fund. The sub-advisors arrange for acquisition and disposition of portfolio investments, including all necessary brokerage arrangements. The Fund pays Fidelity a monthly management and advisory fee for their services, based on the net asset value of each Series, calculated daily and payable monthly. The Fund paid Fidelity management and advisory fees of $485,000 for the period ended March 31, 2026.

Administration Fee

Fidelity charges the Fund a fixed administration fee in place of certain variable expenses. Fidelity, in turn, pays all of the operating expenses of the Fund, other than certain specified fund costs (e.g. the fees and expenses of the Independent Review Committee, taxes, brokerage commissions and interest charges). The Fund pays an annual rate, which is calculated on a tiered basis, based on the net asset value of each Series, calculated daily and payable monthly. The Fund paid Fidelity administration fees of $69,000 for the period ended March 31, 2026.

Brokerage Commissions

The Fund may place a portion of its portfolio transactions with brokerage firms which are affiliates of Fidelity, provided it determines that these affiliates' trade execution abilities and costs are comparable to those of non–affiliated, qualified brokerage firms, on an execution–only basis. Commissions paid to brokerage firms that are affiliates of Fidelity Investments were $0 for the period ended March 31, 2026. Fidelity receives standing instructions from the IRC in respect of policies and procedures governing best execution of transactions with affiliates, which includes brokers affiliated to Fidelity Investments, at least once per year.

Independent Review Committee, Cross-Trading and In specie Transactions

Independent Review Committee

Fidelity has established an independent review committee (IRC) that acts as an impartial and independent committee to review and provide recommendations or, if appropriate, approvals respecting conflict of interest matters referred to it by Fidelity. The IRC prepares, at least annually, a report of its activities for securityholders of the Fund. The report is available at www.fidelity.ca or at the securityholder's request at no cost by contacting Fidelity, using the contact information available on the final page of this document.

Cross-Trading and In specie Transactions

The Fund received the approval and standing instructions from the IRC in order to:

(i) engage in cross-trading, which is a form of interfund trading. A cross-trade occurs when the Fund purchases or sells portfolio securities from or to another Fund, a U.S. fund or a separately managed account, through a broker;

(ii) permit the Fund, in certain circumstances, to purchase and redeem Fund securities in consideration for securities rather than cash of another investment fund not governed by NI 81-102, or a separately managed account, managed by Fidelity.

For each of the transactions in (i) and (ii) above, the IRC's standing instructions require Fidelity to act in accordance with its associated policies and procedures and applicable law, and comply with the conditions in each of the exemptive relief orders received, which, in the case of cross-trading, requires additional periodic reporting to the Ontario Securities Commission. The standing instructions also require that investment decisions in respect of these transactions (a) are free from any influence by an entity related to Fidelity and without taking into account any consideration relevant to an entity related to Fidelity; (b) represent the business judgment of Fidelity uninfluenced by considerations other than the best interests of the Fund; (c) comply with the applicable policies and procedures of Fidelity; and (d) achieve a fair and reasonable result for the Fund.

Financial Highlights

The following tables show selected key financial information about the Fund and are intended to help you understand the Fund's financial performance for the period end of the years shown. Financial Highlights Footnotes

A This information is derived from the Fund's audited annual and/or unaudited interim financial statements. The net assets attributable to securityholders per security presented in the financial statements may differ from the net asset value calculated for fund pricing purposes. An explanation of these differences can be found in the notes to financial statements.

B Net assets and distributions are based on the actual number of securities outstanding at the relevant time. The increase (decrease) from operations is based on the weighted average number of securities outstanding over the financial period. This table is not intended to be a reconciliation of beginning to ending net assets per security.

C Distributions were paid in cash or reinvested in additional securities of the Fund, or both, and excludes any applicable distributions of management fee reduction to securityholders. Distributions are presented based on management's best estimate of the tax character.

E Prior period amounts may have been adjusted.

F Management expense ratio is based on total expenses (excluding distributions, commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) for the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset values during the period, including the Fund's pro-rata share of estimated expenses incurred in any underlying investment fund, if applicable.

G Effective November 1, 2014, the manager of the Fund has waived a portion of its administration fee and as of the date of the MRFP has continued to provide the Fund with such waivers. The manager may terminate the waiver at any time, at its sole discretion. It is not known when such waivers will be terminated.

H The trading expense ratio represents total commissions, other portfolio transaction costs and short selling fees and cash borrowing costs on securities sold short expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period, including the Fund's pro-rata share of estimated trading costs incurred in any underlying investment fund, if applicable. Prior year ratios may have been adjusted to comply with current period presentation.

I The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio adviser manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher the Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the year, and the greater chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high portfolio turnover rate and the performance of the Fund. The portfolio turnover rate is calculated based on the lesser of purchases or sales of securities divided by the weighted average market value of portfolio securities owned by the Fund, excluding short-term securities. The portfolio turnover rate includes any proceeds from a short sale in the value of sales of securities and the cost of covering a short sale in the value of purchases of securities. For periods greater than six months, but less than a full fiscal year, the portfolio turnover rate is annualized. The portfolio turnover rate excludes any adjustment for in-kind transactions.

Management and Advisory Fees

Fidelity serves as manager and investment advisor of the Fund. The Fund pays Fidelity a monthly management and advisory fee for its services, based on the net asset value of each Series, calculated daily and payable monthly. Fidelity uses these management fees to pay for sales and trailing commissions to registered dealers on the distribution of the Fund securities, as well as for the general investment management expenses. Dealer compensation represents cash commissions paid by Fidelity to registered dealers during the period and includes upfront deferred sales charge and trailing commissions. This amount may, in certain circumstances, exceed 100% of the fees earned by Fidelity during the period. For new Funds or Series the amounts presented may not be indicative of longer term operating periods.

	Management Fees (%)	Dealer Compensation (%)	Investment management, administration and other (%)
Series A	2.000	22.33	77.67
Series B	1.850	54.05	45.95
Series F	0.850	-	100.00

Fidelity's mutual funds are sold by registered Investment Professionals. Each Fund has a simplified prospectus, which contains important information on the Fund, including its investment objective, purchase options, and applicable charges. Please obtain a copy of the prospectus, read it carefully, and consult your Investment Professional before investing. As with any investment, there are risks to investing in mutual funds. There is no assurance that any Fund will achieve its investment objective, and its net asset value, yield, and investment return will fluctuate from time to time with market conditions. Investors may experience a gain or loss when they sell their securities in any Fidelity Fund. Fidelity Global Funds may be more volatile than other Fidelity Funds as they concentrate investments in one sector and in fewer issuers; no single Fund is intended to be a complete diversified investment program. Past performance is no assurance or indicator of future returns. There is no assurance that either Fidelity Canadian Money Market Fund, Fidelity Canadian Money Market Investment Trust, Fidelity U.S. Money Market Fund or Fidelity U.S. Money Market Investment Trust will be able to maintain its net asset value at a constant amount. The breakdown of Fund investments is presented to illustrate the way in which a Fund may invest, and may not be representative of a Fund's current or future investments. A Fund's investments may change at any time.
